Throng Inspects the Buildings at New London—Greetings from President Wilson.

With brief words of greeting from the heads of Yale, Wesleyan, Trinity, Vassar, Radcliffe, Brown university and other universities, the formal opening exercises of the newly established Connecticut College for Women were held on Saturday afternoon at New London. During the afternoon it was estimated that more than 5,000 people inspected the various buildings and property. A notable incident in the connection with the exercises was the conferring of the degree LL. D. honoris causa, upon Morton F. Plant of New London, who gave a gift of a million dollars in addition to other valuable gifts made the college a reality.

A letter of greeting from President Wilson was read at the exercises. The exercises commenced with an assembly of the trustees, faculty and guests in New London hall. The procession, headed by the Konomo band, left New London hall and marched to the flagstaff opposite the hall. First came the students of the college, then the trustees. They were followed by the faculty. When Governor Holcomb appeared he was accompanied by Mayor Ernest E. Rogers, clad in college gown.

The guests followed. At the flagstaff the band played My Country 'Tis of Thee and the flag, which was presented by W. W. Perkins, auxiliary Relief corps, No. 15, of New London, was raised by Miss Hazel Woodhull of the faculty.

Luncheon was served to the guests and others in Thames hall, which is one of the college buildings recently completed. The invocation ode, composed by Prof. Louis Adolph Coe, of the music department of the college, was sung. Following came the brief words of greeting from President A. T. Hadley of Yale, Acting President E. A. Perkins of Trinity college, President W. A. Shanklin of Wesleyan, Prof. H. E. Mills, representing Vassar, President McMillan of Welles college, President Burton of Smith, President Pendleton of Wellesley, Dean Bertha M. Moody of Radcliffe, Dean Marion Reilly of Bryn Mawr, Dean Virginia C. Gilchrist of Barnard and the dean of the women's college of Brown university.

Following the reply of President Sykes, came the inspection of the college buildings and the conferring of the degree upon Mr. Plant.

Guests are attracted for market in some parts of Europe by confining them in dark rooms, where light is admitted at intervals, causing them to eat seven or eight meals a day.

Large Attendance at Rally Day Services in Congregational Church—Rev. John Fleming Receives Appointment—Notes.
Rally day was observed at the Greenville Congregational church Sunday afternoon with an attendance of 230 Sunday noon. Special exercises for the occasion were carried out and the Sunday school room where the service was conducted was decorated with flowers, especially the pulpit. At the close of the service the floral decorations were distributed to sick and the shut members of the parish. Every one entering the Sunday school was given a rally day button. The order of exercises follows:
Song—School.
Reading of the Lesson.
Prayer—Rev. Charles H. Ricketts, pastor.
Remarks—Oscar W. Carpenter, superintendent.
Violin solo—Miss Elizabeth Lane.
Song No. 47—School.
Remarks—Edwin Hill, general secretary of the Y. M. C. A.
Kindergarten.
Solo—Arthur Blackledge.
Remarks—Rev. C. H. Ricketts.
Among some of the things that Secretary Hill of the Y. M. C. A. said were the secret of Sunday school success lies in two things, separation and surrender. To keep in touch with God we should separate ourselves from the world and surrender to Jesus Christ. Everyone should love Christ and serve him as the King of Kings and the Lord of Lords. His crowning success was due to his separation from the world and the complete surrender to Jesus Christ. Every individual is needed for the success of the Sunday school.

REV. F. O. CUNNINGHAM
ON VISIT HERE.
Participated in Services Sunday—Accompanied by Evangelistic Singer.
Rev. F. O. Cunningham of New Bedford, who is now engaged in evangelistic work, in which he expects shortly to open a fall and winter campaign, was a visitor here on Sunday, accompanied by Charles E. Furness, who is associated with Mr. Cunningham in his work.
Sunday morning by invitation of the pastor, Rev. Dr. J. E. Stoughton, the New Bedford minister participated in the service at the Central Baptist church, and Mr. Furness, who has a high soprano voice, which uses very effectively, sang, He is Mine. They both participated also in the meeting of the City Bible class for men and in the Sunday school where the last fifteen minutes were turned over to Rev. Mr. Cunningham by Superintendent James L. Case for a short evangelistic service. Mr. Furness rendered an evangelistic solo and Rev. Mr. Cunningham made a short address in response to which eight expressed a purpose to lead a Christian life.

During the afternoon the two New Bedford men made calls on the West Side where Mr. Cunningham was formerly pastor of the First Baptist church and they also attended the Y. M. C. A. meeting, taking part there. In the evening they were at the Groton Heights Baptist church, where the pastor, Rev. G. R. A. was assistant to Rev. Mr. Cunningham in a pastorate at Avery, Ill., about 20 years ago. At the Groton church they also participated in the service. They will attend the Preston City Baptist anniversary today (Monday) and on Tuesday will go to Pawtucket to attend the Rhode Island Baptist state convention.

Those who heard Mr. Furness sing on Sunday admired his rich and sympathetic voice which he used with effectiveness in giving the gospel message, predicting for him a successful career in the line of evangelistic singing.

STARTER HEROUX THERE
WITH FIRE EXTINGUISHER.
Had Fire in Maies's Auto Put Out in Short Order.
A fire extinguisher in the hands of Starter George Heroux prevented the probable destruction of the jitney operated by Frank Maies, when it caught fire in front of the trolley office on Franklin square a few minutes before 10 o'clock Saturday night. Mr. Maies was running through the square when his machine suddenly burst up in a mass of flame nearly ten feet high. Starter Heroux grabbed the fire extinguisher which is kept in his office and rushing out to the machine had the flames smothered in short order. So quickly did Mr. Heroux work that few of the many who gathered about the burning automobile knew what put the fire out.

Someone pulled in Box 23 but before the companies arrived in the square the fire was extinguished and there was no need of their services. The jitney suffered no material damage for the driver cranked up right after the excitement and drove off. It is said that the same jitney broke a rear axle in the vicinity of Moosup late Sunday.

JEALOUS HUSBAND SHOT
TH EPRINCE OF WALES
A Paris report says that the Prince of Wales, eldest son of King George and Queen Mary, is suffering from a bullet wound in the arm, inflicted by a French corporal who was jealous of his wife. The story goes that the woman was an attendant at an inn frequented by the prince and other British and French officers, and that the corporal shot the prince and then turned the weapon upon himself, and he saw his wife waiting upon the officers. The corporal was badly wounded, but the prince, who is operated from all blame in the matter, was only slightly hurt. Edward Albert, Prince of Wales, was born in 1894.
